Mrs. McCormick in Victory Over Deneen for Post

Elected First Woman Senator with 175,000 Votes to Spare

POWER IN CHICAGO

Receives Full Support City Hall Faction That Deneen Crushed

CHICAGO, April 9.—(AP)—Once more a McCormick stands for the election to the United States senate as a republican.

Three years ago it was Meddle McCormick, today it is his widow, congresswoman Ruth Hanna McCormick. She was nominated yesterday in the primaries and elected with more than 175,000 votes to spare over senator Charles S. Deneen, who was seeking re-election. Complete returns of the election are not all counted.

Meddle McCormick won in 1918 from one of the strongest political powers of Chicago William Hale Thompson. Yesterday his widow dominated the republican organization in the windy city with the full support of the city hall republican faction that Deneen's forces crushed in 1928.

Mrs. McCormick is the first woman to become elected to the United States senate. She achieved the defeat of Charles Deneen with a large vote in Chicago, Deneen's home town which proved to be a power of strength to her in the election and which two years ago, Deneen leaving the fight, dumped mayor Thompson's place from party power.

"Coin" Harvey Is Seriously Ill

Was Associated With Bryan in Later's "Free Silver Campaign"

ROGERS, Ark., April 9.—(AP)—W. H. (Coin) Harvey, author of "Coin's Financial School" and other books dealing with monetary systems and their relation to governments, is critically ill here with pneumonia.

Harvey was closely associated with the late William Jennings Bryan in the latter's "free silver campaign" in 1896 and is attributed by some persons as being the intellectual main-spring back of the campaign.

In addition to his treatises on financial systems, Harvey is well known for a pyramid, being constructed near Monte Ne, an Ozark summer resort, in which will be seated luxuries and symbols of this age for the benefit of posterity.

Young Players Given the Edge

"Old Men for Counsel, Young Men for War" Says Killefer

NEW YORK, April 9.—(AP)—Bill Killefer, manager of the St. Louis Browns, believes in "old men for counsel, young men for war."

He has two veteran coaches, Jimmy Austin and Russell Blackburne, to assist him in giving advice and is sending the youngsters to the front to do the baseball fighting.

"We must depend on the young fellows," said the ruddy faced Bill, as he talked of his prospects as he starts his first year as an American league manager. When he last directed a club it was the Cubs of the National league.

"We have to a large extent weeded out the old-timers, even on the farms the club owns or controls. We are prepared to go along with the promising youngsters we have and hope to get others who will develop later."

"Our faith in the youth of baseball is shown by the selection of Rick Ferrell, at 21 years old, to be our first string catcher. I think he is one of the greatest catching prospects I have ever seen and I am sure he will come through for us in fine style."

"We have a good pitching staff and we had nothing to do but get our pitchers ready, our job would be simple."

Meese Battles Rookie for Job With Giants

SAN ANTONIO, April 9.—(AP)—The fact that Andy Meese held down second base for the Giants last season won him no advantage over Eddie Marshall, the rookie, in their scrap for the keystone position, declares Manager John McGraw.

"They can fight it out," said the Little Napoleon, "and the one that shows me the most will get the job."

Victorious

Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick won the nomination to the United States Senate Wednesday in Illinois' state primary election, achieving the defeat of Senator Charles Deneen.

Field Meeting to Be Held Saturday

Star's School for Correspondents Will Be Same Day.

The same day that The Star holds its School for Rural Correspondents—this Saturday—County Agent Lynn Smith has arranged for a crop demonstration on the farm of R. T. White, a mile and a half east of town on the Centerville-Rosston road.

The Star's correspondents will meet at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in the city hall, where K. B. Roy, agricultural editor of the University of Arkansas will speak. They will be the guests of The Star at luncheon at noon; and at 2 p. m. are invited to accompany County Agent Smith to Mr. White's farm.

The demonstration there will be on the growing of hairy vetch. Mr. Smith's letter to interested farmers around the county says:

"You are invited to attend this field meeting Saturday afternoon because I believe you are interested in how to improve your land in other ways than buying your fertilizer in a sack. Please invite any of your neighbors whom you feel would be interested in this meeting."

The Star, which is now registering all correspondents for the morning meeting and luncheon, has received acceptances from several. Correspondents are asked to report to the office at once whether they will be able to attend the School and luncheon.

Elected To Same Office 22 Times

Magnolia City Treasurer Has Held Office 42 Times

MAGNOLIA, April 9.—J. C. McNeill was re-elected city treasurer at the election Tuesday for the 22nd time consecutively, which is believed to be a record for that office for any town. Mr. McNeill will begin his 43rd year as city treasurer on April 15.

Mr. McNeill has served the Columbia County bank of Magnolia as cashier since it was organized 28 years ago. It is Magnolia's oldest bank. He served five years as cashier of a city bank here under Joe Kelso previous to assuming that position, which gives Mr. McNeill a continuous service in the bank as cashier 43 years.

Resigning last year in favor of a younger man, Mr. McNeill closed a service of 20 years as a member of the Board of Stewards of the M. E. church, South of Magnolia. He also served the Sunday school of his church as superintendent about 21 years.

Mr. McNeill completed a commercial course in Little Rock in 1879, when 18. He then entered the University of Arkansas and attended two years. Mr. McNeill was born September 18, 1860, a few miles north of Magnolia. His parents moved to town when he was a year old, and he has lived here since.

Brooks Hays Club Is Organized Here for Ten Counties

Young Candidate for Governor with Friends at Luncheon

GENTRY IS LEADER

State Senator Chairman—E. F. McFaddin Secretary

A Brooks Hays for Governor club was organized today noon at a luncheon of representatives from 10 South-west Arkansas counties who met Mr. Hays in Hotel Barlow.

State Senator U. A. Gentry was chosen chairman of the 10-county organization, with E. F. McFaddin as secretary. Both are local attorneys.

Mr. Hays addressed the group with a speech of appreciation for the support he said he was finding in this offer his detailed platform for the campaign, declaring that he was still working on it and would make a detailed statement later.

The youngest man in the 1928 race for governor, and regarded as a strong opponent of Governor Harvey Parnell in the 1930 campaign, Mr. Hays is well known over the state. Originally from Russellville, he is now practicing law in Little Rock. He was an assistant attorney general under H. W. Applegate; has been active in state politics and community work, serving as district governor of Arkansas Lions club and as chairman of community and charity drives in Little Rock.

Mr. Hays is the first candidate to visit this city after formally entering the campaign. Lee Cazort, present lieutenant-governor, spoke at a dairy meeting here last November prior to his entry into the campaign; and Governor Parnell who filed for re-election recently, was a visitor here twice during the winter.

Hospital Benefit Here on April 22

Julia Chester Will Handle Program at Saenger Theatre

A benefit performance will be staged at the Public-Saenger theatre Tuesday, April 22, by the Hope and Hempstead County Hospital association for Julia Chester hospital, it was announced today.

The benefit will raise funds to purchase a refrigerator for the hospital, it was said by the committee headed by Mrs. C. S. Lowthorp. The women of the hospital board will be in complete charge of the theatre and program.

There will be bridge parties on the mezzanine floor, arranged by the committee, and other features still to be announced.

The feature picture on the 22d will be "Free and Easy," with an all-star cast headed by Buster Keaton, presenting a number of new songs, one of which is a specialty entitled "Down in Arkansas."

Order of Antlers Elect New Officers

At a meeting last night of the Order of Antlers, junior organization of the Elks lodge of this city the following were elected to the officers of the junior lodge:

Tom Ruggles, exalted Antler, G. M. Green, Jr., Leading Antler; Bill Wray, Royal Antler; J. D. Hendrix, Lecturing Antler; Ray Cumble, secretary; Chester Harwell, Treasurer; Hoyett Rider, guide.

Lost Glass Eye Used by Boys as Marble

BROCKTON, Mass., April 8.—William T. P. Nelson, well-known local character lost his glass eye while being forcibly arrested for drunkenness recently and when he again sighted the false optic, it was target in a game of marbles.

The youngster who found the glass eye had won 500 marbles with it. Nelson redeemed it with a piece of silver.

Ozark Streams Will Produce Light and Wealth—Big Power Projects Are Started

JOPLIN, Mo., April 9.—From fiddles to phonographs, feuds to farming, mule back to flyover—the Ozarks have stepped along abreast of the times.

Natives now know what's in the newspapers and on the screen.

Good roads and making the hill country into a summer playground have changed it all.

The thousands of miles of spring-fed streams that twist through narrow gorges at the base of cliffs are soon to be harnessed and made to produce light and magic wealth.

Bandits Release Their Captive

J. E. Bristoe Reported to be in Fair Health and on Way Home

SAN ANGELO, Tex., April 9.—(AP)—A message was received here today from the San Angelo Standard-Times correspondent at Huacatlan, Mexico, which said that J. E. Bristoe, mining operator, who was kidnapped on March 10 and held for ransom by Mexican bandits is believed released and is leaving Tepic, Nayarit tonight.

OKLAHOMA, April 9.—(AP)—The Oklahoma City Times is a copyrighted dispatch from Ahuacatlan, Nayarit, Mexico, today said that J. E. Bristoe, Oklahoma and Texas oil man has been released from custody of bandits after being held for a month.

The release was effective, after a payment demand by the bandits. Bristoe was reported to be in good health, and had joined his son and two American friends.

Arkansas U. Lends Ford Old Motors

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., April 9.—Henry Ford's museum at Dearborn has been granted the loan of several pieces of ancient electrical equipment now owned by the college of engineering of the University of Arkansas here.

The University, however, reserves the right to ask for their return at any time desired. The collection includes:

Perrett 1889 motor, 110 volt, 10 h. p., 6 pole Edison biplane dynamo Thompson-Houston arc machine Thompson-Houston bipolar motor, Carbon lamp, built in 1890 and still well preserved.

Holder of 9 Jobs Has Practical Run of City

BELL, Calif., April 9.—Employment, rather than unemployment confronts J. A. Hartman of this city. Hartman has nine jobs all of them official.

He is the city license collector, warrant officer, court bailiff, city hall janitor, traffic officer, official chauffeur, court investigator, assistant switchboard operator for the Bell Fire Department.

"Outside of city work," Hartman said, "I have nothing to do."

Agreements Are Reached Among the "Big Three"

Minor Question Concerning Training Ships to be Settled

AGREE TOMORROW

May Start Drafting, Signing of Tri-Party Treaty Soon

LONDON, April 9.—(AP)—The Japanese delegation to the London naval conference today requested they be allowed to transfer the 20,000 tons from destroyers to submarines and thereby reach a complete accord with the American and British delegations on all points except a minor definition concerning training ships.

This development was the result of a meeting today which was attended by Secretary Stimson, Prime Minister MacDonald and Reyoar Wakatsuki. In conference circles it was said this meant that the three powers were in position now to proceed with the drafting and signing of a tri-party pact, if the attitude of France and Italy should make a five power pact impossible.

The minor training ship question is expected to be adjusted tomorrow at another meeting of the three chief delegates.

Officials Sued For Excess Fees

Two Present and Four Former Holders of Offices Named

MARION, Ark., April 9.—(AP)—Suits charging failure to turn into the treasury of Crittenden county fees in excess of the $5000 maximum set by law fixed by statute have been filed against two present and four former office holders of the county and their sureties. The suits were filed in circuit court here and the sums sought range from $3200 to $14,000. The total sought is $53,343.71 with interest at six per cent.

The defendants are G. S. Barton, treasurer until last year, A. B. Carter, county clerk until last year, J. W. Carruthers, former treasurer, Claud Cooper, former sheriff, J. H. Nance, former county clerk and W. B. Rhodes, treasurer.

The suits were filed by S. L. Gladish prosecuting attorney, and W. B. Scott, special attorneys. They grew out of the new famous audit made by the state which charges shortages in several officials' accounts. No criminal action was taken against the officials and former officials.

The suits and their amounts follow:

G. S. Barton and sureties—$3057.36 for 1928 and 1929.

A. B. Carter and sureties—$6854.63 for 1928 and 1929.

J. W. Carruthers and sureties—$6008.58 for 1927 and 1928.

Claud Cooper and sureties—$12,333.45 for 1926, 1927, 1928 and 1929.

J. H. Nance and sureties—$13,355.00 for 1925, 1926, 1927 and 1928.

W. B. Rhodes and sureties—$10,974.30.

Carelessly Hung Picture Cops to Liquor

OKEMAH, Okla., April 9.—Because Lester Morrow was careless in the way he hung pictures on the walls of his home he served a 30-day jail sentence and paid a $50 fine.

When Sheriff Wes Kennedy visited Morrow he stopped to straighten the likeness of Morrow's baby. When he moved the picture he discovered 15 half-pint bottles of whisky in a hole in the wall. County Judge Stephenson fined Morrow and gave him the jail sentence.

End of Transcontinental Glider Flight

"It's a great sport. And it's safe. It holds the fate of popular aviation." That's what Capt. Frank M. Hawks said about gliding when, as pictured above, he landed his light craft in a New York City park after having been towed 2500 miles across the continent in 18 hops. Inset are the wives of the glider and airplane tow pilots, watching the landing. With Mrs. Hawks, right, is Mrs. H. D. Jernigan. Hawks is shown below delivering to a New York postal official the first sack of transcontinental glider air mail.

Watchmaker is Fatally Wounded

Jealousy is Believed to Have Caused Shooting of E. Y. Davidson

LITTLE ROCK, April 9.—(AP)—E. Y. Davidson, 42, watchmaker, was shot and fatally wounded by William A. Brown, 40, branch telephone exchange operator who he accused of having paid attentions to Mrs. Davidson, his 17-year-old bride of five months.

Brown surrendered following the shooting which Mrs. Davidson said was the outgrowth of a misunderstanding which came about when Brown drove Mrs. Davidson to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Gordon at Pine Bluff at their request.

Davidson became jealous, Brown told officers and came to his home early this morning and threatened him. When he refused to let him in, Davidson tried to force his way, believing that he was armed. Brown fired one shot, Davidson fell mortally wounded.

Investigation of Methodist Board of Temperance Urged

Statement is Issued by Representative Tinkham of Mass.

HIS LETTER READ

Alleges Organization to be Interfering With Government

WASHINGTON, April 9.—(AP)—A statement requesting the Senate lobby committee to investigate the Methodist board of Temperance, prohibition and public moral and federal council of churches, was issued today by Representative Tinkham, republican of Mass., as he took the witness stand before the Senate lobby committee. Tinkham was refused permission to place his statement on records. As a result he had written to chairman Carey of the Senate lobby committee, outlining charges against the Methodist board was read today. It said: "Permit me to bring to your attention as chairman of the committee of investigation to the organization and its influence upon the government and ecclesiastical organization known as the Board of Temperance, prohibition and public moral and federal council of churches of the Methodist Episcopal church."

"This organization, it is alleged to have had agents and representatives of the Methodist Episcopal church for the purpose of attempting to influence and direct the legislative and executive branches of the federal government and of influence and interfere with the judicial appointments."

Representative Tinkham said he believed the Senate lobby committee could render no greater service to the public than to investigate the Methodist board of Temperance.

J. P. Brundidge Extends Invitation in Letter to 104 Men

Real Estate operators of Southwest Arkansas will hold a banquet meeting in Hope at an early date, it was announced today by J. P. Brundidge, vice-president for the southwestern district of the Arkansas Real Estate association.

Mr. Brundidge has mailed out 101 letters to real estate men and property owners at far north as Men and Hot Springs, and south as El Dorado, Magnolia and Camden. The letter, which leaves the selection of a definite date to later consideration, reads in part as follows:

"The Arkansas Real Estate association was organized March 30, 1925, for the purpose of enabling real estate operators in the state to more closely co-operate and work out our mutual problems. It is our desire to become better acquainted with and work more closely with the business men in sections which do not have any center large enough to maintain a regular real estate board. With this in mind we have divided the state into four districts, namely: Northeastern, northwestern, southeastern and southwestern districts. We are planning to have a series of meetings in the state which will enable the members of the association to become acquainted with many other dealers in the state as possible."

"It has been suggested that we have a meeting in Springdale, Jenero Hope and Stuttgart, which should enable us to get in touch with four or five hundred active and aggressive dealers in the state."

"This association is encouraging the establishment of airports in various towns in the state and work for air-mail lines through Arkansas, which will necessitate establishing emergency landing fields at approximately 10 mile intervals along established air lines."

The president of the state association is Oscar McCaskill, and the secretary, Warren Baldwin, both of whom maintain offices in the Home Insurance building at Little Rock.

Plane Is Used to Fight Fires

Weather Condition Cause Authorities to Obtain Airplane

HOT SPRINGS, April 9.—(AP)—Weather condition which creates fire hazards caused authorities of the Ouachita and Ozark National forest service today to again obtain the services of an airplane from the Arkansas National Guard to assist the lookouts in spotting fires.

Only two fires are known to be burning in the Ouachita and Ozark reserves today. The forest is extremely dry and with no immediate promise of rain, according to F. C. Stone, assistant executive of the Ouachita reserve fire hazards are great.

Ashdown Man Says He Has Struck Oil

Predicts Well Will Be Brought in Within Next Two Weeks

ASHDOWN, April 9.—With the work of setting the casing progressing rapidly on the oil well being drilled by C. F. McDonald, a former Ashdown preacher, 12 miles east of Ashdown, "opes that Little River county might become the location of an oil field 'new brighter Tuesday."

The well is on the McDonald farm near Red Bluff. It is called the McDonald No. 1, and is the fourteenth well ever drilled in the county, but the first to show any indications of oil, according to McDonald.

Reports that McDonald employed "nards" at the location and is barring visitors from coming near the derrick were branded as false by the promoter.

"We do not have a guard and never have had one. We like for people to look at it and want all who wish to come any time they get ready," said McDonald.

McDonald predicted that the well would be brought in within the next two weeks, declaring that there was no doubt that he had already struck the oil.

23 Indictments Returned Today

Grand Jury at Washington Reports Total of 59

The Hempstead county grand jury, in session with circuit court at Washington this week today returned 23 additional indictments raising the total thus far reported to Judge Dexter Bush to 59. There were 36 reported Monday night.

The investigative body was still examining witnesses late this afternoon, with the possibility that it would be held over into Thursday.

The spring term of circuit court is expected to be a long one as there are many cases set for hearing before Judge Bush in both the civil and criminal divisions.

Pitchers Here and There

LEW FONSECA led the American League in batting last year. Thinking his testimony about pitchers he loved to touch would be somewhat valuable, I asked him in New Orleans the other day who he regarded as the toughest pitcher he had to face.

Lew rather expected the answer would be Grove, Earnshaw or one of the other well-publicized aces. It was not.

"I've always had plenty of trouble with Myles Thomas," said the hard-hitting Portuguese first baseman of the Indians. "Can't seem to keep track of that ball when Myles eases it up there. That Sam Gray can throw balls up there that are mighty wicked, too."

"Of course, I think Pigoras of the Yankees is a great pitcher, too. When he throws that slow ball to you, it looks like a butterfly in a daily field. The ball dances around. You need a paddle to hit that one, especially after you have just looked over a fast one or two."

"Earnshaw? He has the greatest fast ball in the game. Sometimes when he throws it, the darned thing hops. Another time it's a slider. And if Earnshaw could gain complete control of that curve ball, it would be the best in the league."

All Tough, Says Marty

REMEMBER having talked to Marty McManus of the Tigers about the same subject.

"Everywhere you go in the American League, you have to beat good pitchers," said Detroit's third baseman. "Look at Cleveland with Hudlin, Miller and Ferrell. Chicago with Faber, Lyons and Thomas. Washington with Sam Jones, Myles Thomas and Hadley. The Macks with Grove, Earnshaw and Walberg. St. Louis with Crowder, Gray and MacKolder. Even when you play a 'tailend' team, you've got to face Morris, Ruffing and MacFadden."

Here and there throughout the training camps of the south, the old debate as to the best pitching staff in either league was revived, and sometimes the arguments became quite heated. A majority expressed the opinion that the three big shots of the

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

TRIS SPEAKER played in three games in which unassisted triple plays were made. Neal Ball, Cleveland shortstop, made one in a game in which Spoke was playing in the Red Sox outfield. . . . At Cleveland, in the world series of 1920, Spoke was in center field when Wamby made that well-known play. The third one was pulled off in Boston by George Burns, in 1923. Jewel Ems, boss of the Pirates, has a little book in which he keeps track of what every player does, just like a foreman counting the men's hours. . . . Walter Eckersall once wrote a series about the greatest all-time Big Ten players, and on the 1899 Chicago team named Walter Kennedy, 195-pound quarterback. . . . Ye sports editor had the story rewritten by the desk, naming Eckersall. Eckie never was one to get excited about himself.

A's still held the spotlight. But a healthy minority argued in favor of the Indians, with Hudlin, Miller and Ferrell. Toward the end of last season, too, Holloway began turning in nearly perfect games.

Marberry, the Lifesaver

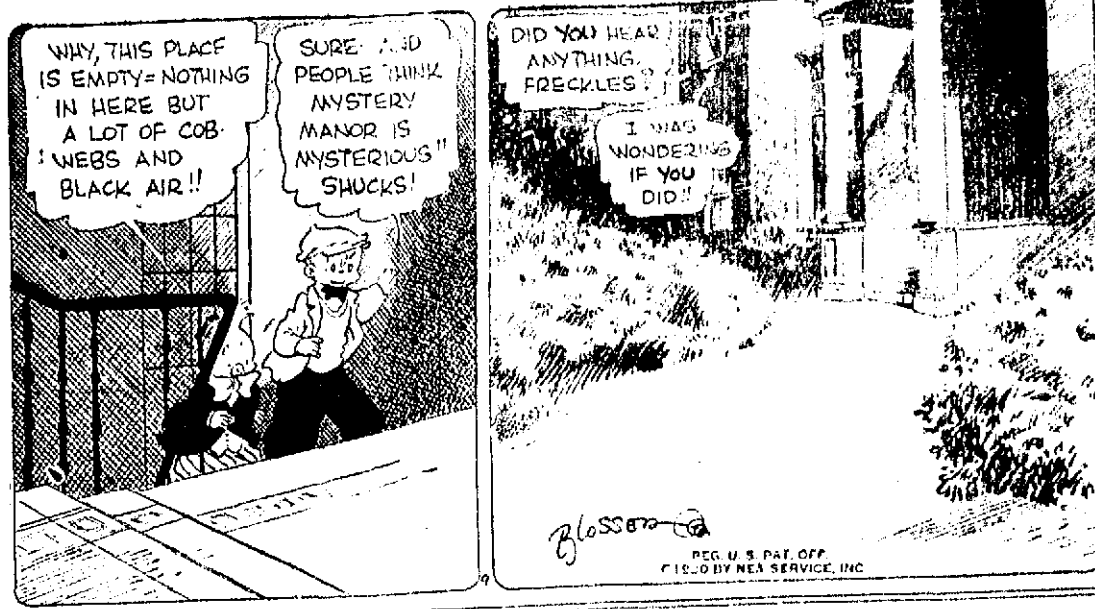

ROGER PECKINPAUGH settled for me for all time the question of who was the greatest relief hurler in baseball—Firpo Marberry of the Senators. "Firpo used to love to go in with the bases loaded," said Roger, "and with three and nothing on the batter. He would haul back that old foot of his about five feet in the air and wheel three fast ones with plenty of hop on 'em right through the middle. Yes, sir, that old Marberry, he sure can wheel 'em right through there. Nerve? A barrel of it! And he gets by with it, too."

Peck used to play at short while Firpo was wheeling 'em down through there and he ought to know.

Ouachita Athletes Defeat Ozarks

Win Track Meet, 88 to 36, and Also Carry Off Golf Honors

ARKADEPHIA, April 9.—The Ouachita College track and field team at Clarksville Monday afternoon won first places in all events except the high jump and defeated College of the Ozarks, 88 to 36.

Curtis Rankin, who was high point man in the meet with the University at Fayetteville Saturday, again was high, scoring first in the 220 and 440-yard dashes and the pole vault and running as a member of two relay teams, making 17 1-2 points. Rankin did not run in the 100-yard dash. Rankin beat Basham, crack quarter-miler of the Ozarks. Steed Rountree, Ouachita's fast middle distance man, ran his quarter-mile in the medley relay in 51.6 seconds. Claunch heaved the discus 124 feet and six inches. John Palmer won both hurdles events doing the high one in 15 seconds.

The Ouachita golf team easily won the match, Golden and Williams both making good scores. Golden did the 18 holes in 74, 40 out and 34 in. Seventy is par for the 18. Matlock, McMillan and VanDyke all won their singles matches in tennis, while Matlock and McMillan and VanDyke and Golden copped their doubles matches to make it a clean sweep.

Sky is Screen for New Ad Project

Pictures Projected Into Clouds at 200 Foot Altitude

BOSTON, April 9.—Skywriting in which an airplane spells words in smoke, an astonishing development in the advertising world only a few years ago, already is considered old-fashioned.

Through a new device, demonstrated for the first time here recently by its inventor, Gordon C. Edwards of New York, it is now possible to use the sky as a screen and project upon around. The newest system of sky advertising involves a huge projector which casts a strong beam of light through a series of finely-adjusted lenses and then through a metal stencil on which the desired words appear. Words used in the advertisement appear in the sky at an altitude of about 2,000 feet.

Miss Mary Middlebrooks of A. and M. College at Magnolia will leave Thursday for Fayetteville where she will enter the state spelling contest having won first place in Magnolia district.

YES! YES! "I'm so glad to be on vice versa again," said the nervous woman as the ship reached harbor. "My dear, you don't mean vice versa, you mean terra cotta," said her friend. —Tit-Bits.

When Gas Cost $7 a Thousand

SIXTY years is not a long time when measured by the lives of active men and women. Business men still planning ahead because they're far from the point of retirement readily remember when gas cost as much as seven dollars per thousand cubic feet.

When tempted to dwell upon what we call the high cost of home comforts we find more than a bit of humor in the picture of grandma paying her gas bill in Little Rock shortly after she became a bride.

She must use artificial gas manufactured by cumbersome methods. Only the elite could afford it. And thus we are reminded of the happy contrast in our present day situation with Natural Gas the safest, cleanest and most economical of all fuels, available to every home in this community.

Men and women in all walks of life are now seeking positive value. They are demanding the most and best for their dollars. And so today more than ever the trend is to Buick.

Not only are motorists driving 700,000 more Buicks than any other of the 15 makes of cars in its price class—not only are they guarding Buick from 35 to 50 per cent of the combined sales of these fifteen makes—but they are giving Buick a greater proportion of the total sales in its field than at any previous period in Buick history.

See Buick with Body by Fisher—compare it—consider the tremendous buyer preference revealed in the above figures—and you'll agree that Buick does provide greater value in all elements of motor car appeal.

Commission Has Not Reported

"Soundness of Faith" of Minister is Investigated

OSCEOLA, April 9.—(P)—A commission appointed to inquire into the "Soundness of Faith" of the Rev. Hay Watson Smith, pastor of the fashionable Second Presbyterian church in Little Rock, was expected to make a report of its findings to the Arkansas Presbytery today.

The commission was appointed after the general assembly had decided upon the inquiry into Dr. Smith's belief following the publication of pamphlets which the minister espoused the theory of organic evolution.

The Rev. R. C. Boyd of Searcy, was elected moderator of the Presbytery last night.
